Jim: Well, I'm finally rid of you. I've enjoyed having you as a student in the future & as a successful friend.

Jim Dawsey

Hi! You're a real good good-looking guy
 But! Dude!
 Jerry Green
 JR. 69-70

Well, for some time
 I've been thinking of writing you and saying
 how much I like you.
 I've been thinking of
 writing you and saying
 how much I like you.
 I've been thinking of
 writing you and saying
 how much I like you.

Jim,
 It has been a lot of fun knowing you this year. Remember the time you let me drive your car? I'll I hope we are always friends & wish you the best of luck in the future
 Love ya,
 Linda Dean
 Denver 70

Jim,
 Sometimes I would do with what you. I didn't know you out to me everywhere I decided to go. All the times to things I'll never forget I've really had some fun times haven't I? I hope you always have the best of luck!
 Love,
 Sr. Pam

P.S. sometimes you could strangle me for introducing him - but I always get over it!

Jim,
 You're one of my very closest friends & always will be. I guess we would do about anything for each other. Since you know how I feel about you I won't waste time writing about it, because we'll be around each other to talk things over. Good Luck for the future, because we'll all need it.
 Steve Horn

Jim,
 It's been pleasant knowing you this year and even though I've made alot of silly remarks about you I really didn't mean any of them. You're a nice guy and good-lookin to.
 Be good and have all the fun you can. Stay cool.
 Love ya,
 Kathie still

Jim,
 You're a pretty good guy and I'll never forget when you came to CPHS in the 10th grade and took Commercial Art 5th+6th hour. That was a class to remember - it would be hard to forget! I consider you a good friend of mine
 Good Luck in everything!
 Sally Sr. 70

Like a film in fast motion, a year whirled by, with all those incidents that make school what it is flashing by in a matter of seconds. As it rolled to its final resting place, juniors and sophomores found themselves winded, but ready for the next go-round, while seniors were slightly out of focus, but aware that rehearsals for living were almost over. The traditional joy that accompanies the end of a school year was present, but tinged with darkness, as many realized that such days were almost over, to be resigned as memories.

These memories — indelibly imprinted upon our minds — are not of the formal, but rather of the informal education we received. They are of how we learned to live, to love, and yes, even to hate. Some are sweet, some are bitter, all are invaluable. In effect, we were learning the rules of the game.

How disproportionate everything was; like that torrid love affair that died in a few weeks time; like that part-time job that promised prosperity but ended in time-consuming drudgery; or like that all-important school activity which soon turned to nothing more than a pleasant hobby. Even though they diminished in magnitude by the end of the year, they shrunk even more in retrospect. But somehow they helped to establish our goals and values.

The individuals that resulted from all of this — how different would they have been if they had not experienced it?

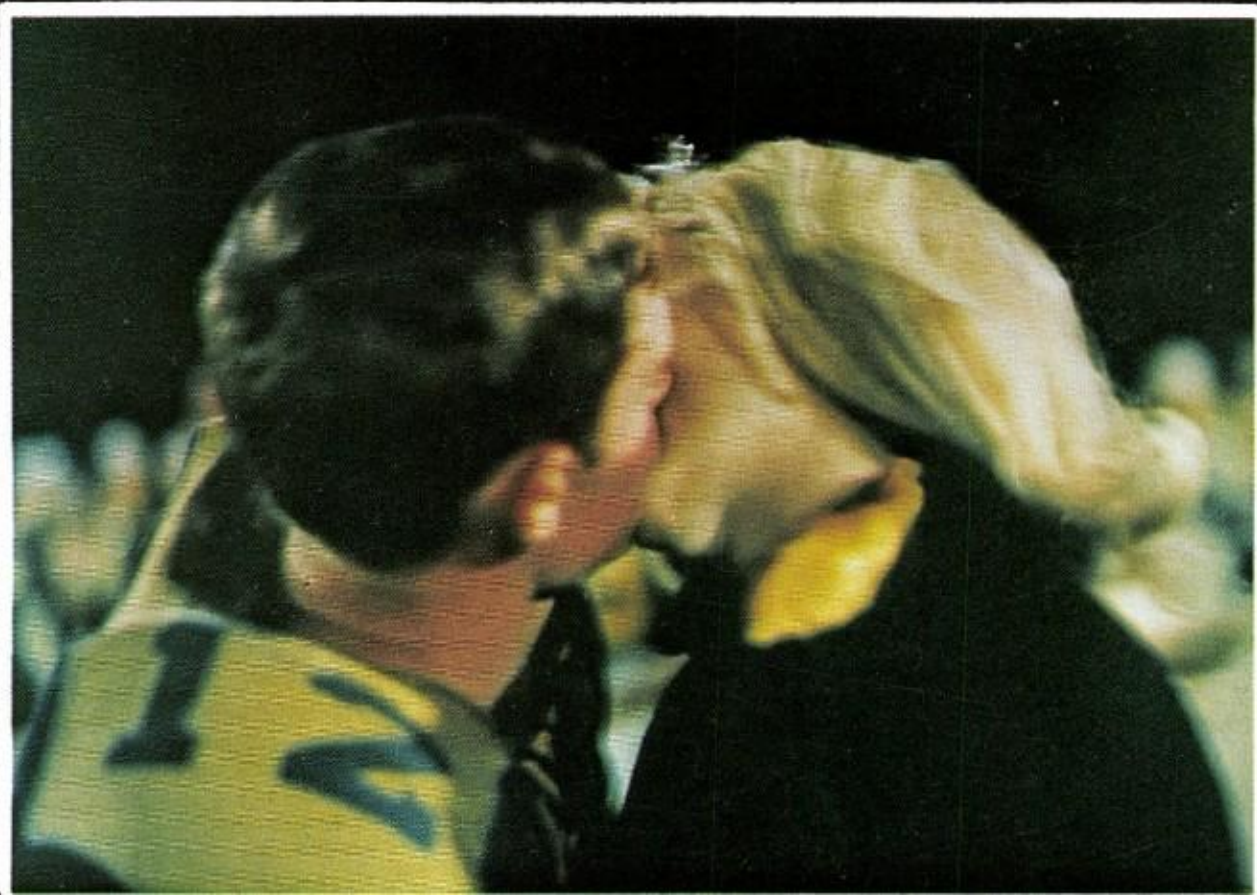

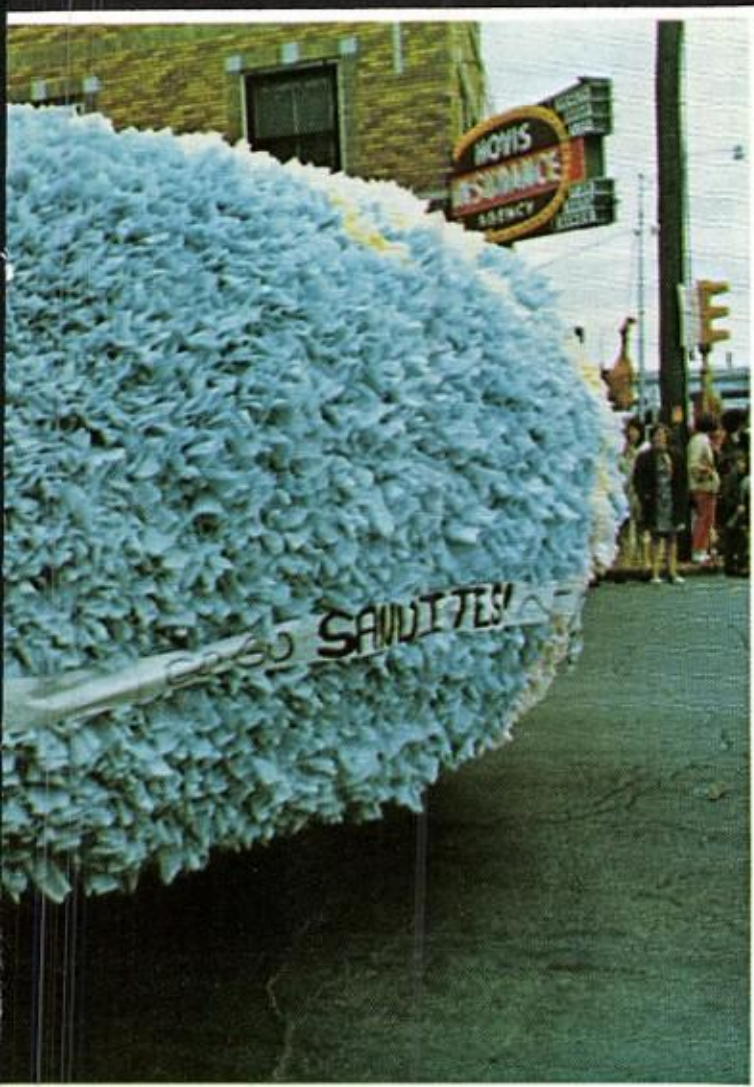

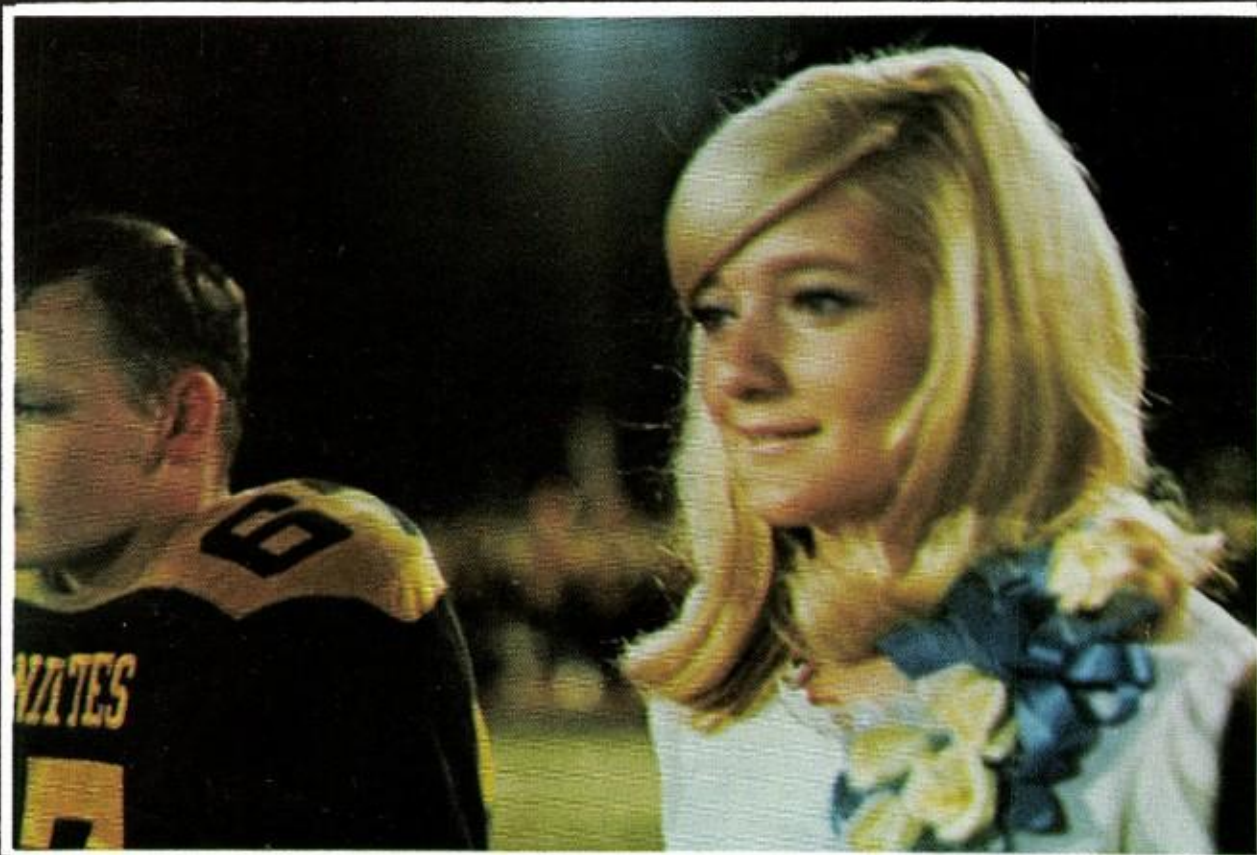

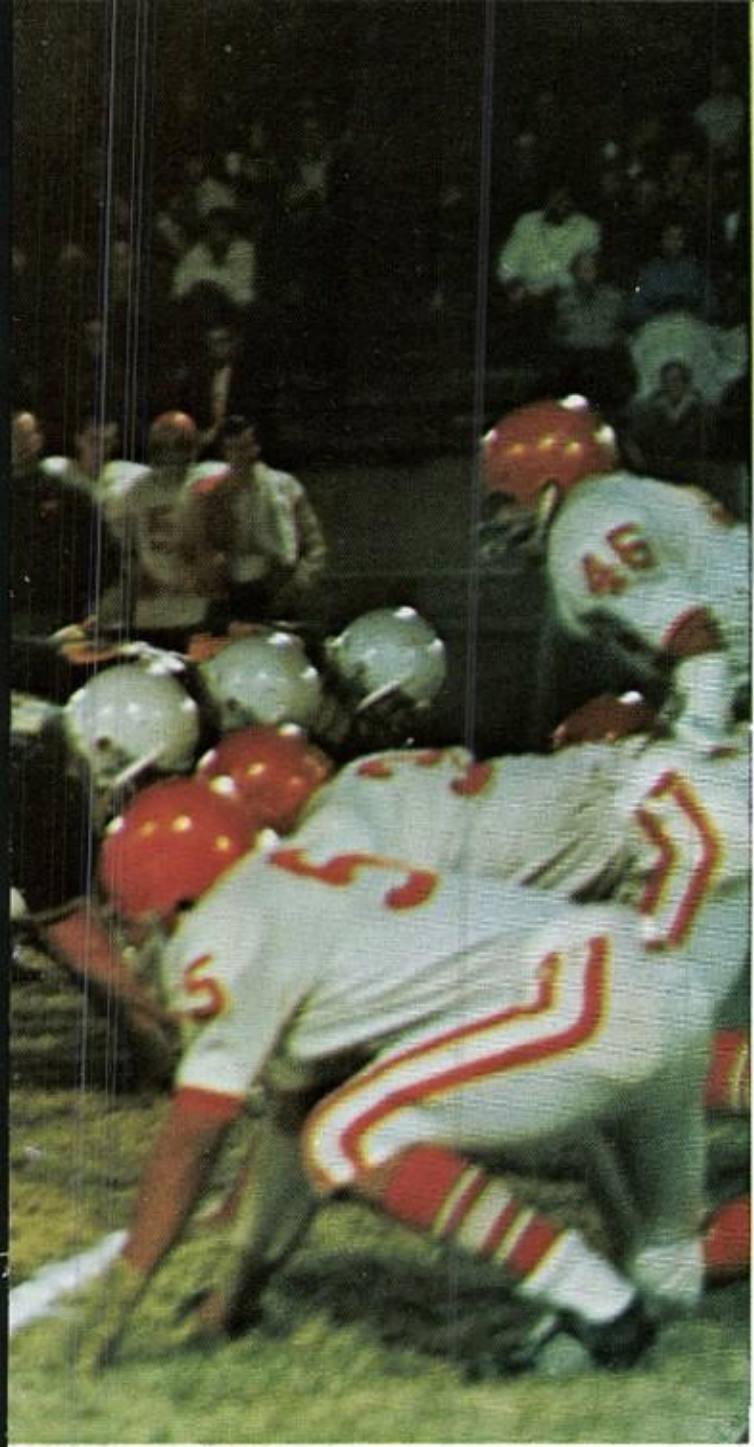

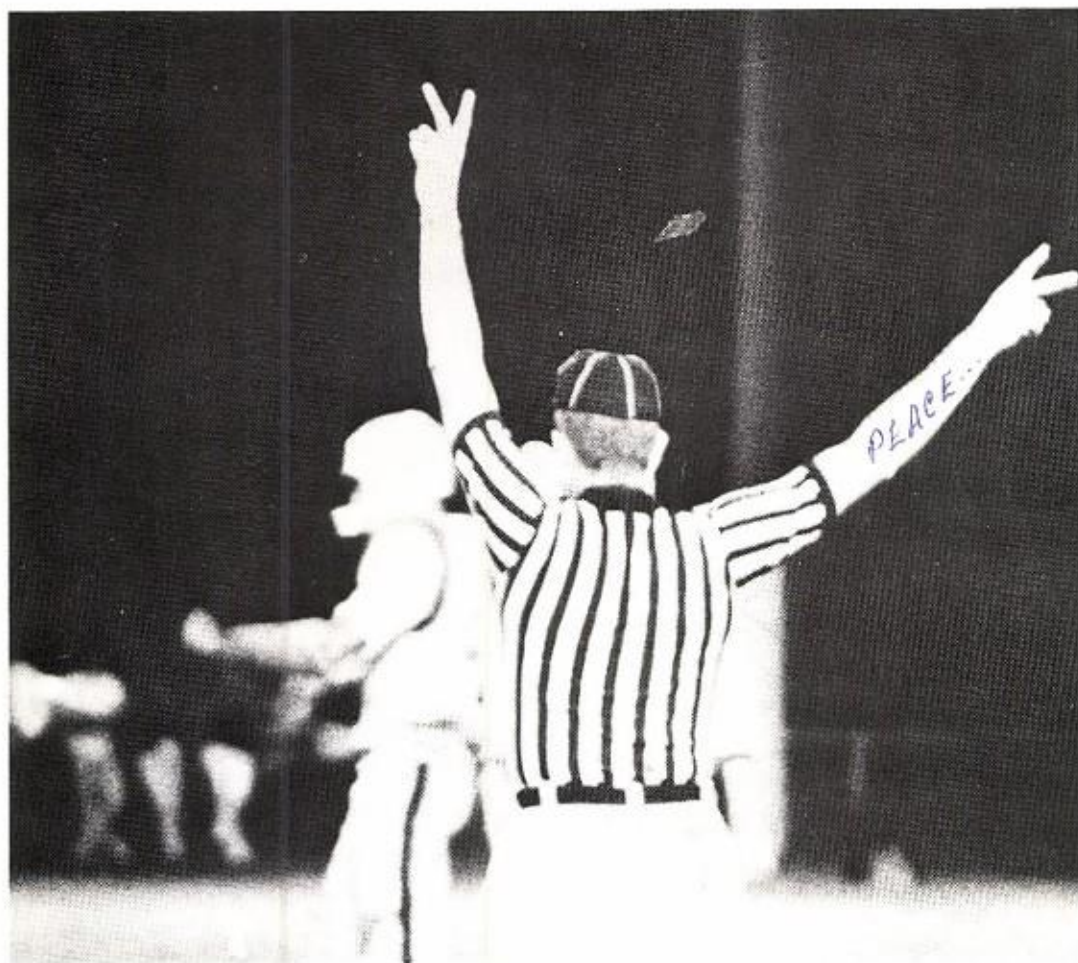

Would any one of us have turned out the same if we had not sat through assemblies, screamed through pep rallies and football games, sweated through ACT, SAT, and IOWA tests, or slept through Civil Defense training? Or what if we had missed out on those little subtle triumphs such as driving to school the first time, or going to the prom for the first time, or, as a senior, first playing the role of the superior upperclassman? And finally, what if we had been deprived of the small things that provided spice, like forgotten locker combinations, lost books, overdue books, and slips of multi-colored paper ad infinitum. All these things must have affected us ... they must have.

But eventually it has to end. After a person mounts a platform and receives that small piece of paper, he marches away from more than a ceremony; he leaves behind a way of life, a distinct era in his life. He goes out to see and be seen, to hear and be heard, to live and be tested. He will change. His world will change. But no matter how many changes will come; no matter the joys, the loves, the pain, and even the happiness that will come, and go, and be forgotten, these years of togetherness, of warm security, of incalculable experience will not be forgotten. They are, most certainly, the Golden Era of our lives.

Superintendent Boyd addresses seniors

The Class of 1970 is the first class to graduate after the moon landing. This class will be challenged to meet these changing conditions in a realistic approach.

Your continuing education will determine your niche in this technological age. You must be willing to change on short notice and therefore, you learn to enjoy and anticipate change instead of fearing it.

When we say we must educate for change, this is not an idle nor arbitrary phrase. We have no choice. The world in which you will raise your families, build your homes and earn your living will be as different from today as the world of your childhood differs from today.

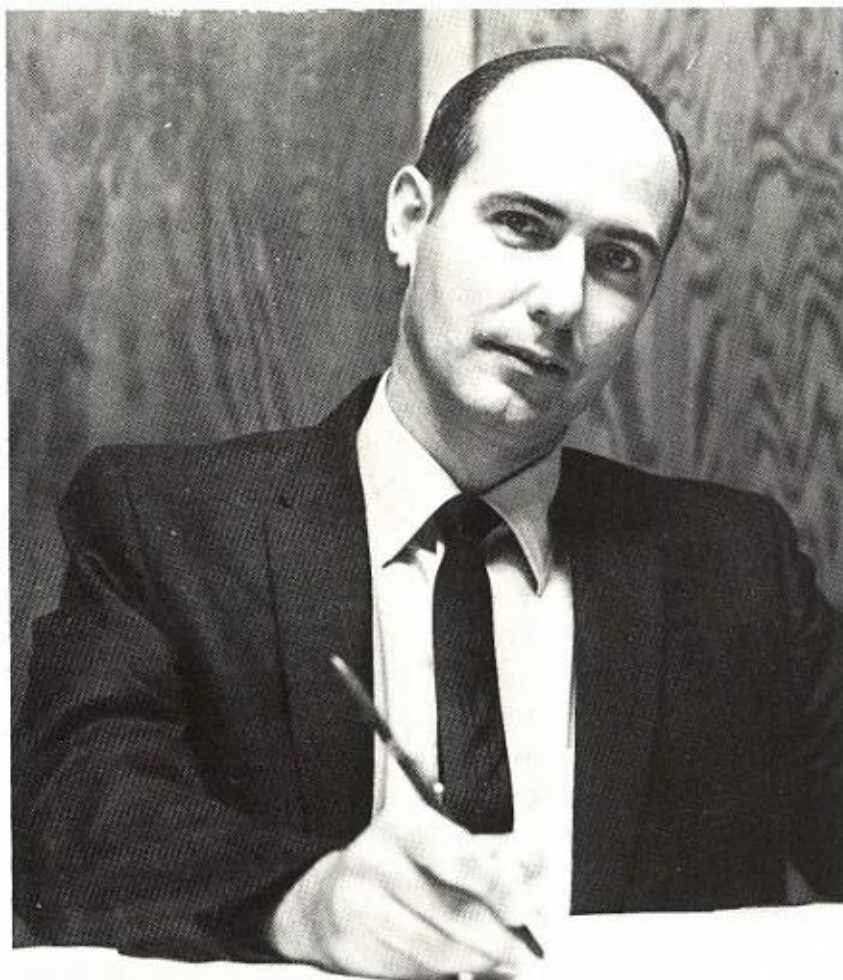

Regarding success, William Ward said, "(1) Success is one who decided to succeed and worked. (2) A failure is one who decided to succeed and wished. (3) A decided failure is one who failed to decide — and waited." What is your answer?

The Charles Page High School 1970 Graduating Class will be challenged to meet these changing conditions. Today's world needs young leaders of your aptitude and desire who realize the importance of dedication and learning.

SAND SPRINGS PUBLIC SCHOOLS BOARD OF EDUCATION
MEMBERS: ROW 1: Ed Dubie, S. B. Cole, A. Langley Coffey. ROW 2:

H. J. Pitts, Tot Brown, Doyle Cannon, Superintendent Clyde Boyd,
James Sanders. Tot Brown was elected to the board last year.

Sr. class advised by Principal Beck

I appreciate this opportunity to extend sincere congratulations to the fine graduating class of 1970. You have been a pleasure to all who have worked with you.

It is only through the intelligent application of increased knowledge — scientific, social, and cultural — that the troubles faced by all peoples will eventually be solved. We at CPHS trust that you, through academic attainment and by having been a part of proper social atmosphere, have acquired some of the skills that may contribute to the solution of these problems. You will certainly be put to the test.

You are urged to continue your formal education to the fullest extent of your various abilities. Best wishes to you.

SENIOR OFFICERS

Horn, Boyd, Manes Head Senior Class

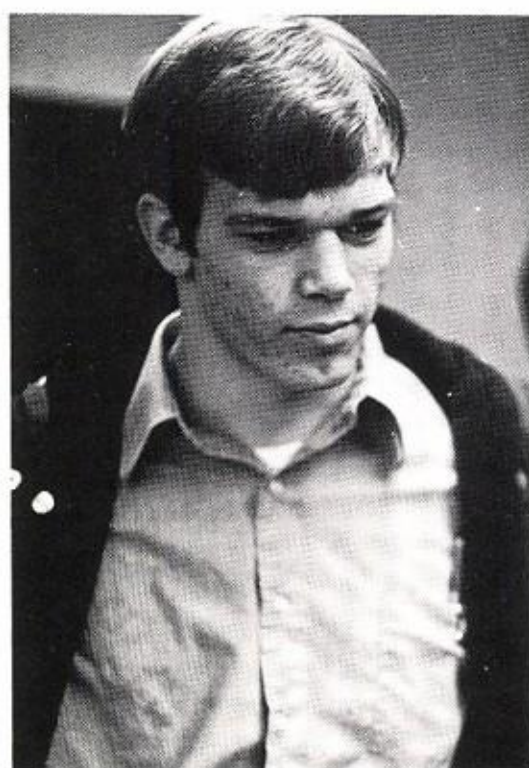

With the advent of the senior year comes the end of many things and the beginnings of others. The Senior Class of 1970 ends its public education with a rich treasury of memories and accomplishments, and looks forward to many future accomplishments.

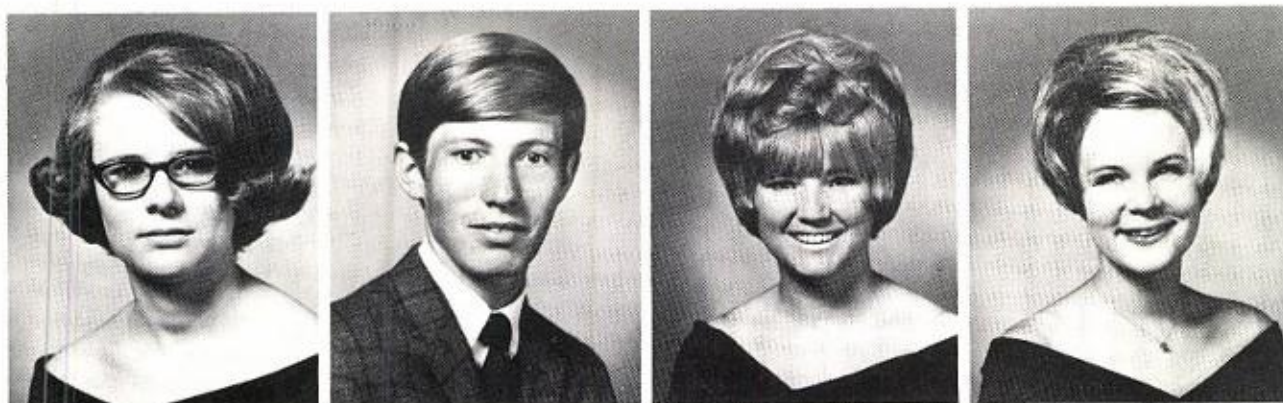

Regardless of future plans, the senior year is a period of transition. The transitions from adolescence into adulthood, from high school to college or career, from dependency to independence all are experienced during the senior year.

When the senior year is over, the transitions are complete. Building class floats, attending banquets, proms, and high school sports activities, tournaments and classes become memories. The defeats are remembered only to encourage us to have more victories in the future.

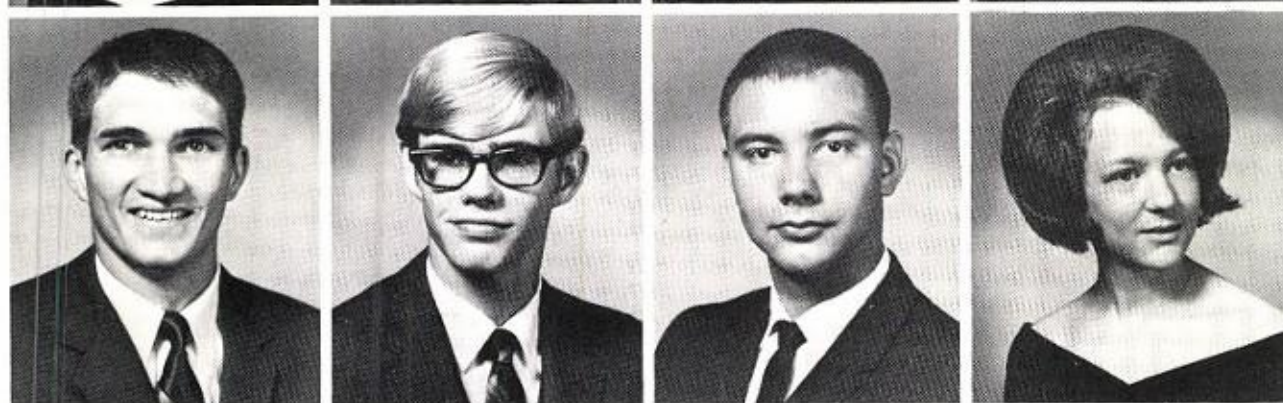

In 1969, the senior class elected Rick Boyd vice president, Steve Horn president, and Marchia Manes secretary.

Juniors find a new role as middlemen

With a flurry of enthusiasm, the junior class began their second year at Page determined to make good their hopes of attaining superiority. The class elections determined the leaders of the 1970 junior class. These leaders had the responsibility of directing the juniors' actions into succeeding efforts on class projects.

In the powder-puff football game, the junior girls played their hardest, but in vain as they fell victim of the sophomores. The float competition proved to be much the same story. Despite the efforts put forth, the junior float trailed the field. But, the juniors came back, always stronger than before. Although sometimes down, the juniors were never out.

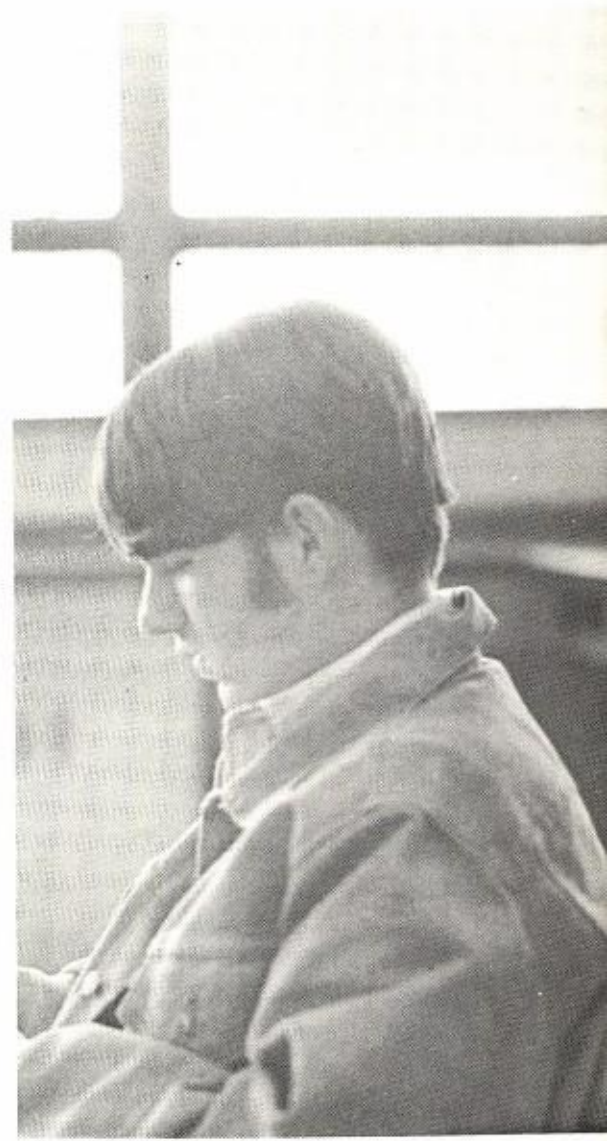

The junior president in 1969-70 was Fred Shaeffer. Re-elected as vice-president and secretary were Marty Harden and Janna Whitehead.

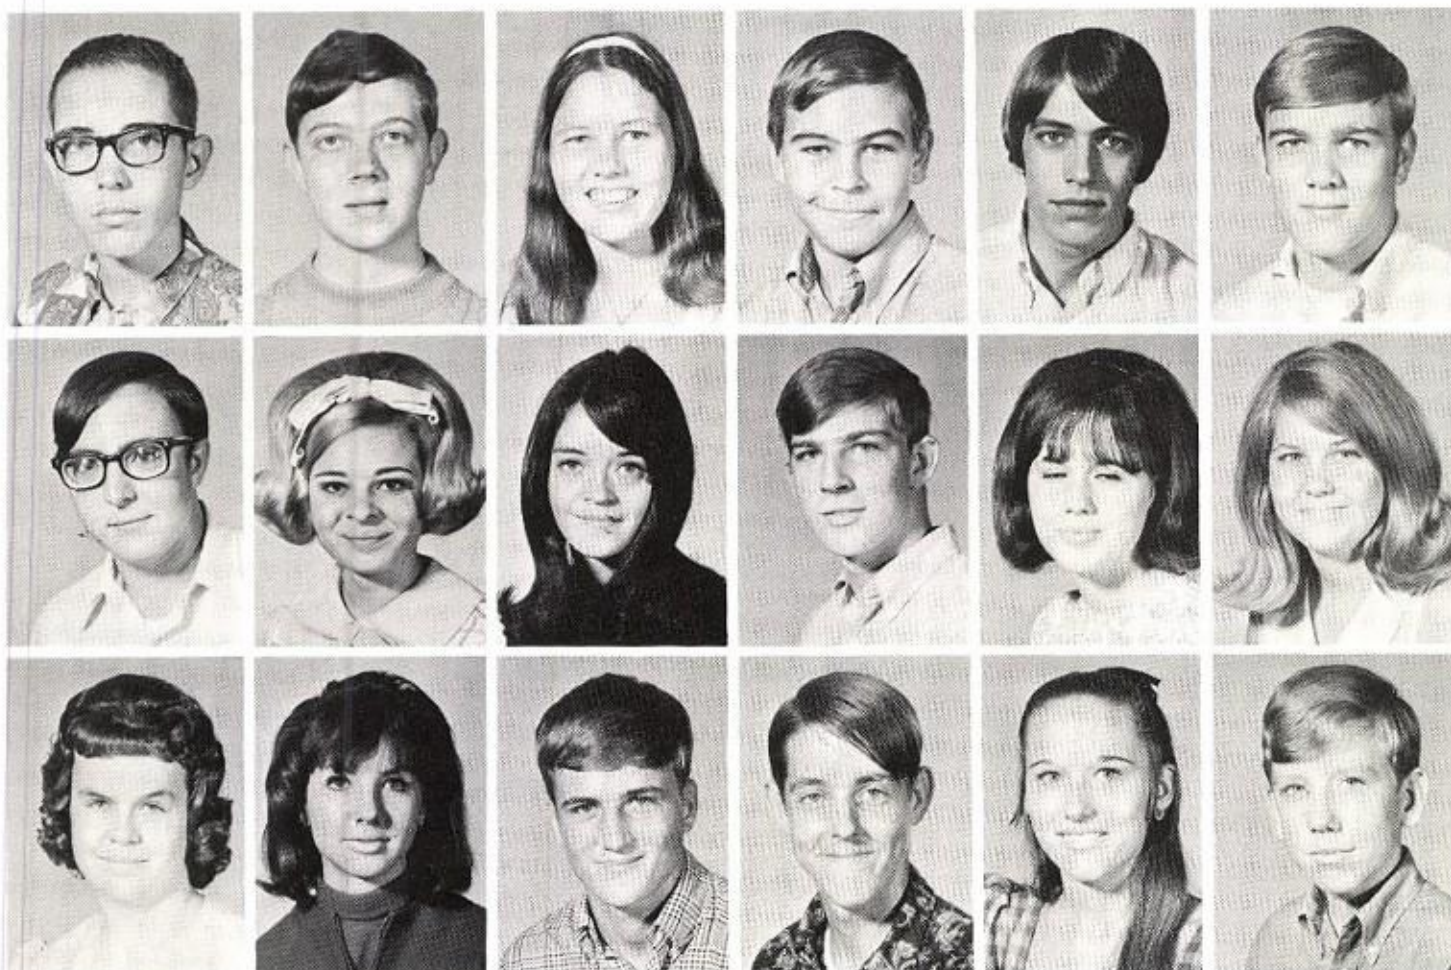

With the Welsh death sign, Rick Tyler, Bob Thompson, and John Spencer complete their study of Paul McCarthy's alleged death. Looking on with great interest is Jim Beck, senior.

SOPHOMORE OFFICERS

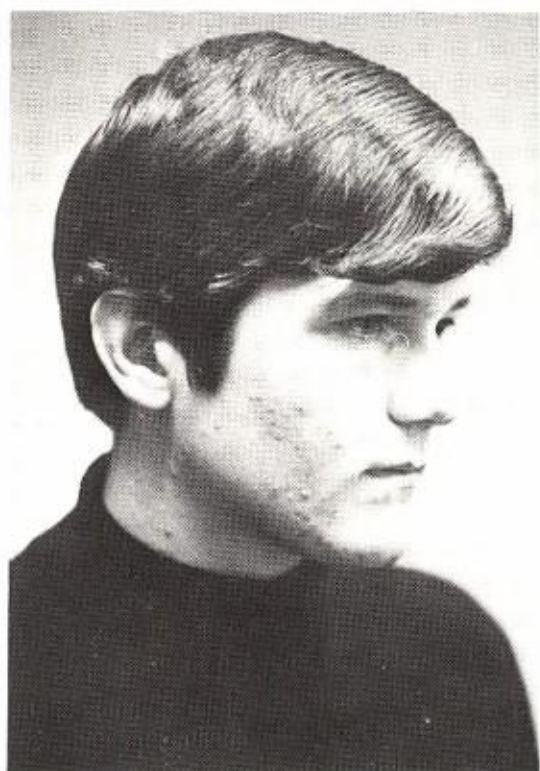

Sophomores enter with "high" hopes

The sophomore class of 1969 — 1970 was led by President Tommy Hudspeth, with Vice-President Debbie Browers and Secretary Lynna Evans. Sophomores burst on to the scene astonishing both juniors and seniors with tons of energy and spirit. Winning the spirit stick in pep assemblies wasn't unusual for the sophomores to do. If they did lose they made sure that the competition was stiff.

Sophomores surprised everyone when they won first place in the float contest. They built a model of the planet earth, and in making it spin, set a new goal for the classes of next year.

Chris Blair shows that research for his debating can be fun, as he looks through one of his primary sources for information.

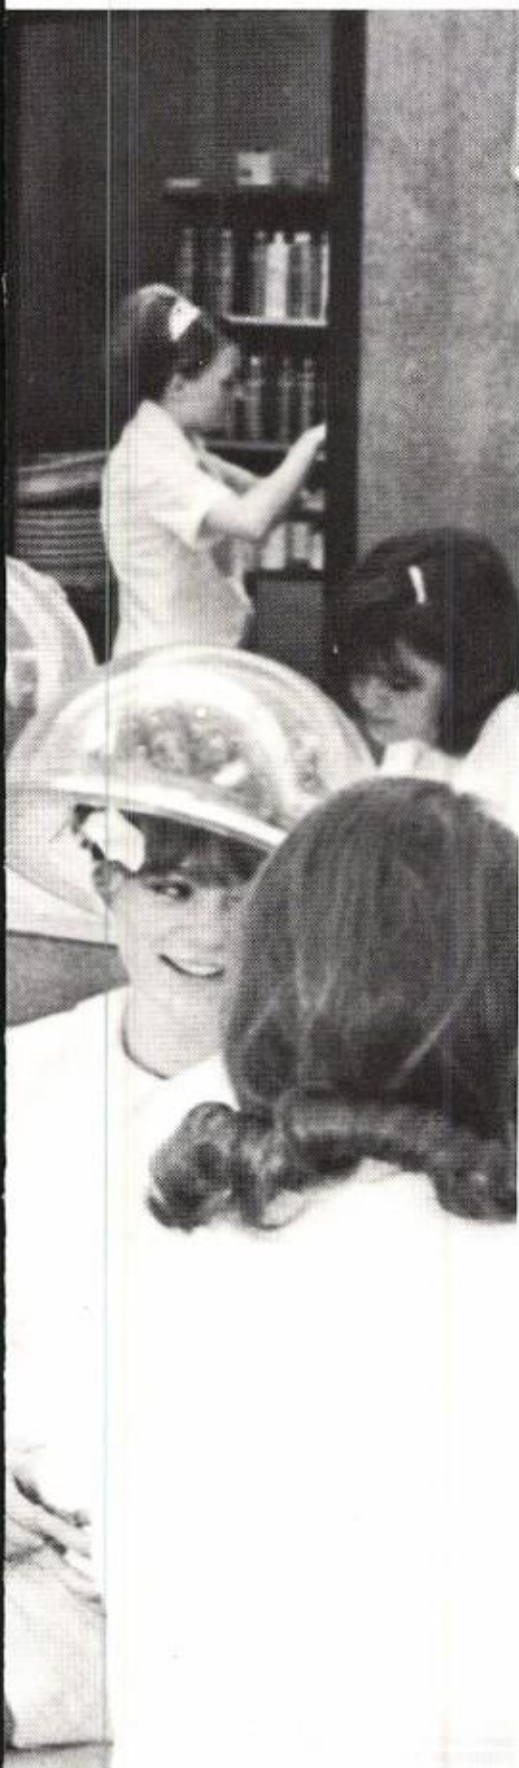

It takes a lot of studying to make it in high school, as sophomores David Powhatan and Donna Redburn discover. But despite all of the work, most sophomores find that the atmosphere is different from any other school they have attended.

High school is a new experience for sophomores everywhere. But somehow, the sophomores of today, sometimes lost in the crowd of high school, will emerge from the masses of high school to find their places as individuals in the future.

There are 57 members of the Student Council, each active in participation.

The new school year started and Student Council went right to work planning several new and totally different projects. Monthly calendars containing activities from the forth coming month were made available to the student body. Also, the council published a directory with names of all students and their grade, address, and telephone number. The project was a success as they sold over 600 copies. Initiated this year by the Council was the Intramural tournament for all students.

Dan Marrs, Brenda Driscoll, and Edward Whittenburg, confer with Thurman Garrett, sponsor, over issues on student council.

Student Council holds leadership key

As president of Student Council we see Dan Marrs, senior, doing one of his many duties, such as typing out morning announcements.

Edward Whittenburg, senior, is vice-president of Student Council. Here we see Edward thinking about all the work which lies ahead.

Brenda Driscoll, Student Council secretary, is kept busy working hard to keep up with the Student Council's many projects.

Art club promotes aesthetic talents

The Art Club at Charles Page encourages the belief that art is beautiful, enjoyable, and can even be fun. By encouraging work in paintings, ceramics, and taking field trips to art museums, the Charles Page Art Club hopes to create a greater appreciation of art in its many forms.

Leading the Sandites award-winning band were the drum majors, Junior Brenda Buxton and Senior Kim Cox.

Under the capable direction of Harold Fisher, the CPHS band won many high honors in both marching and concert tournaments. Funds to cover the expenses of attending these tournaments were raised primarily through the band's sale of candy. The band also entertained during the halftime activities of the Sandite football games and joined the pep club in bolstering spirit and brightening the outlook of the fans.

Connie Hardeman, senior, applies make-up to Pam Spencer, sophomore, as Thespians prepare for their production of "Oklahoma!"

Allie Hackumb and Girdie Cummings whisper sweet nothings as Allie is "conned" into wedding bells.

"She went about as fer as she could go," says Aunt Eller played by Lynda Davis, in the Drama production of "Oklahoma!"

Glenda Broam, Rick Tyler, Rick Tallent, Jeanie Siegal, Karen Crainer, Trey Boyd, Rick Boyd, and Linda Leer pose for the photographer at the end of a scene as they rehearse for the first all-school play. Rehearsals were long and hard but the results were most rewarding.

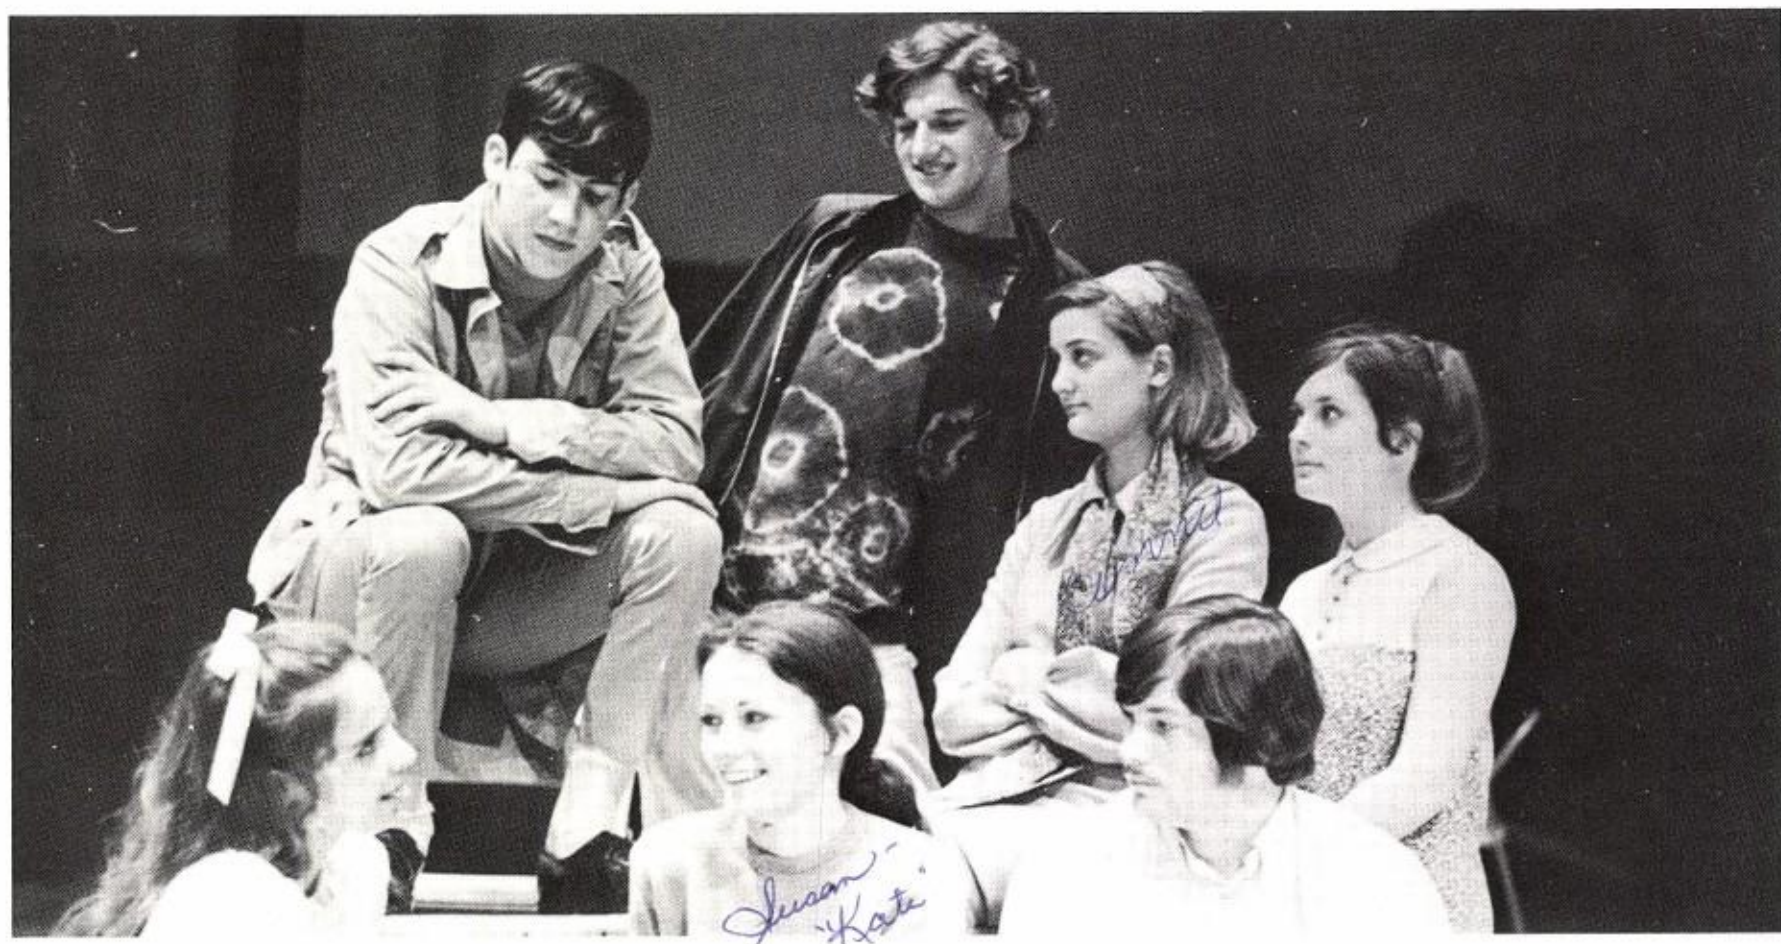

Dramatic talents are plentiful at Page

The leading roles in "David and Lisa", the second major production at Page, were played by seniors Rachel Durham and Mike Brown.

Patty Fisher and Ricky Tyler practice very intently for the musical "Oklahoma!".

Rachel Durham, Jim Beck, Susan Deas, Homer Eubanks, Connie Hardeman, Bob Thompson, and Robbie Snow rehearse for "David and Lisa". The play tells the story of two disturbed teen-agers in a mental institution. Through a series of traumatic experiences and glaring truths about themselves, the young people are put back on the road that leads to being responsible members of society.

With two phenomenal wins over archrivals Henryetta and Sapulpa, the Sandites started the 1969-70 season with determination and confidence. The S-men looked great at those first two games and the fans were elated, but the Kelley Comets put an end to this and afterwards the Sandites weren't quite the same. The next week East Central followed their example. Mustering their strength after these defeats, hardfighting Sandites came back to finish the season with a record of six wins and four losses.

Sandite basketball coaches David Smith and Don Johnson.

Showing one of the strongest starts ever, the CPHS basketball team came on the scene favored to win the Six Lakes Conference crown again in 1970. With shooting, rebounding, a good defensive effort, and plenty of team spirit, the Sandites showed that they were quite capable of defeating almost any foe that they might come up against.

As well as an outstanding team record, the Sandites had two of the most widely acclaimed players in the state. Glenn Buntin and Ed Garrett spearheaded the Sandite attack all year. As their point totals spiraled, the Sandites victories grew more numerous in a very successful season, ultimately taking the Conference.

VALEDICTORIANS

Students attain flawless transcripts

Charles Page had three Valedictorians for the year 1970: Marilyn Smith, Richard Burns, and Karel Kolker.

Marilyn Smith was in Thespians, Pep Club, and National Honor Society for three years. While serving as NHS Student Council Representative, she was installed on the Intramural Committee for Student Council. She belonged to Future Business Leaders of America and was Parliamentarian for Future Teachers of America.

Marilyn was a delegate to American Freedom Forum in 1968 and 1970, delegate to T.U.L.S.A. Seminar, to Business and Professional Women's Club Americanism Seminar and chosen as their Girl of the Month for November. She was also a delegate to 1969 Girls' State.

Marilyn was a previous member and vice-president of the National Forensic League.

Richard Burns was in Future Business Leaders of America Club. In his Senior year he served on the Intramural Committee of Student Council and was also in Hi-Y and National Honor Society for three years.

Karel Kolker was in National Honor Society and Pep Club for three years. In her Senior year, she was NHS vice-president and Pep Club vice-treasurer. She also belonged to Future Teachers of America and Student Council.

Karel was a delegate to Oklahoma Girls' State and was in Business and Professional Women's Club Americanism Seminar and she was Girl of the Month for them in February. Karel was November's Senior Citizen and received an Honorable Mention in the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. She is listed in the 1969-70 edition of Merit's "Who's Who Among American High School Students".

Officers, Dan Marrs, president; Karel Kolker, vice-president; Sandi Mullins, secretary; Marilyn Smith, student council representative; Ted Coombes, treasurer. ROW 2: Pam Mosier, Rhonda Rayburn, Carolyn McCarty, Patricia Rusk, Debra Potts, Connie Hardeman, Rachel Durham, Jamie Welch, Brenda Driscoll, Paula Newell, Marcia Manes, Carolyn Casey, Kathy Mize, Rita Shope, Sandy Matlock, Sandra Hixson, Sharon Mann, Connie Moss, Patty Fisher, Kay Robinson, Peggy Williams, Donna McLain. ROW 3: Doyle Graham, Mike Brown, Kathy Frey, Jamie Mercer, James Doyle, David Giles, Richard Burns, Susan

NHS strives for improved scholarship

To be elected a member of the National Honor Society is an accomplishment that every member should be proud of because membership sets the student apart from the average high school student.

The association of scholars initiates nearly a hundred students every year. This large number is a witness to a scholastic record of which students of Page and members of NHS should be proud.

Page's 1969—1970 foreign exchange student was Sholeh Dabiri, who came to the United States from Iran. Her American parents were Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Lynch. Kay Lynch was her American sister. Sholeh's home town is Isfahan. This town is very famous and is known as "The Museum of the East".

When asked why she came to the United States with the AFS, Sholeh said, "My purpose for coming to the United States under the AFS program is to see America and its improvements, to meet its people, and to learn about their culture and customs. I wish to speak English fluently and I hope I can learn it this year."

Promotion of international good will is Sholeh (Lili) Dabiri finds it easy to enter in class participation, especially when the subject happens to be about her country, Iran! Staying for one semester, Lili gained many new experiences as well as friends, and Page students hated to see her leave.

Bill Sosa-Suarez, our exchange student from Argentina, fit into the Page curriculum with very little or no difficulty. He carried a full schedule consisting of Math IV, English, physics, government, public speaking, and typing, and somehow managed to find time for sports. Even though his course of studies was fewer than that in Argentina, the one here was more difficult since he had to use English. Considering these factors, Bill's ability to maintain his high scholastic average was amazing. His only difficulty came from trying to understand our customs and the slang terms we used. He always took our slang phrases literally!

the goal of AFS

Kim shows Bill the difference between the American version of football and the "football" played in Argentina.

Guillermo Sosa-Suarez and his American brother, Kim Dunn, show how it is possible to play baseball on a football field!

Seniors honored for outstanding work

Throughout the school year, each month two senior students were chosen to be senior citizens. The couples were chosen in the basis of their personal achievements and contributions to the school, school spirit, and the organizations to which they belonged.

Although many contributions were made throughout the year by many seniors, the achievements of these eighteen stood out above the others. Each of these students should be proud of having attained the honor of senior citizen. But even more important than the honor itself is the encouragement that is provided to other students to meet the standards set by these eighteen seniors. If future students set examples like these, Page will remain on top.

Guillermo Sosa-Suarez, Pages foreign exchange student, was elected senior citizen almost immediately after he arrived in Sand Springs.

Brenda Driscoll, the secretary of student council, was also elected senior citizen for September.

Chosen for October Senior Citizens were Linda Lock and Ed Garrett. Linda was President of Pep Club and very active at all sports events. Ed is an outstanding football and basketball player and belongs to the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

This couple, Karel Kolker and Rick Arney, was elected Senior Citizens for the month of November. Here they try out some borrowed motorcycles in hopes of having their own.

Marchia Manes and Edward Whittenburg, senior citizens for December, take a walk to enjoy nature in the wintertime.

Dan Marrs and Sandi Mullins enjoy a brisk day in January, the month in which they were elected Senior Citizens.

February Senior Citizens, Carolyn McCarty and Glenn Buntin enjoy the sunshine, in spite of the snow.

Steve Horn sits with Paula Newell as they talk about their final year at Charles Page. Paula and Steve were elected Senior Citizen for the month of March.

Mike Brown and Shelley Robertson, Senior Citizens for April, enjoy the bright sunshine outside the school building.

May Senior Citizens Connie Hardeman and Ricky Boyd are glad to see spring arrive. Connie is president of Thespians and is an active member of Pep Club. Ricky, Vice-President of the Senior Class, is a star football player and an outstanding wrestler.

BOY'S AND GIRL'S STATE

Students witness government in action

This summer six Page students got a chance to see how Oklahoma government works by participating in a small scale government of their own. For eight days students from all across Oklahoma worked feverishly to set up conventions, elections, and sessions of the legislature. Although time for sleep was hard to find, representatives to Boy's State and Girl's State somehow always found time to meet a new friend. Boy's State and Girl's State are experiences that the delegates will always remember, and look back to with fond memories.

SANDITE QUEEN BRENDA DRISCOLL

An election, a run-off, a finalist, in the past. A wait, suspense, questions, forgotten with time. Planning, writing, hoping, only memories. A walk, a ramp, an assembly, in the back of the mind. A word, a crown, roses, a kiss, symbolic in tradition. A king, a queen, a song, old with age.

She was beautiful, the assembly perfect, the king handsome, the ending complete. A tradition was started with triumphant glory.

SANDITE KING ED GARRETT

Certainty, uncertainty, wondering, hoping between the parted pages of mind. A suit, a tie, a boutonniere, yellow faded in time. A scepter, a kiss, a trophy; dusty and barren. A smile, a red face youthfulness wrinkled by age. A final walk, a past queen, many congratulations only memories of old.

He was picked by all and humbly accepted it in dignity. He departs with the year, but there remains the memory forever.

Out of all the activities which were associated with school, sports occupied more student involvement than any other activity. And out of all the different sports the school sponsored, football ranked number one in participation and attendance. Attending each game, (aside from the team members), were the cheerleaders, pep club, and marching band. When combined, the total number of students in these organizations made up nearly a third of our entire school enrollment. This is aside from those who attended the games in the role of fans.

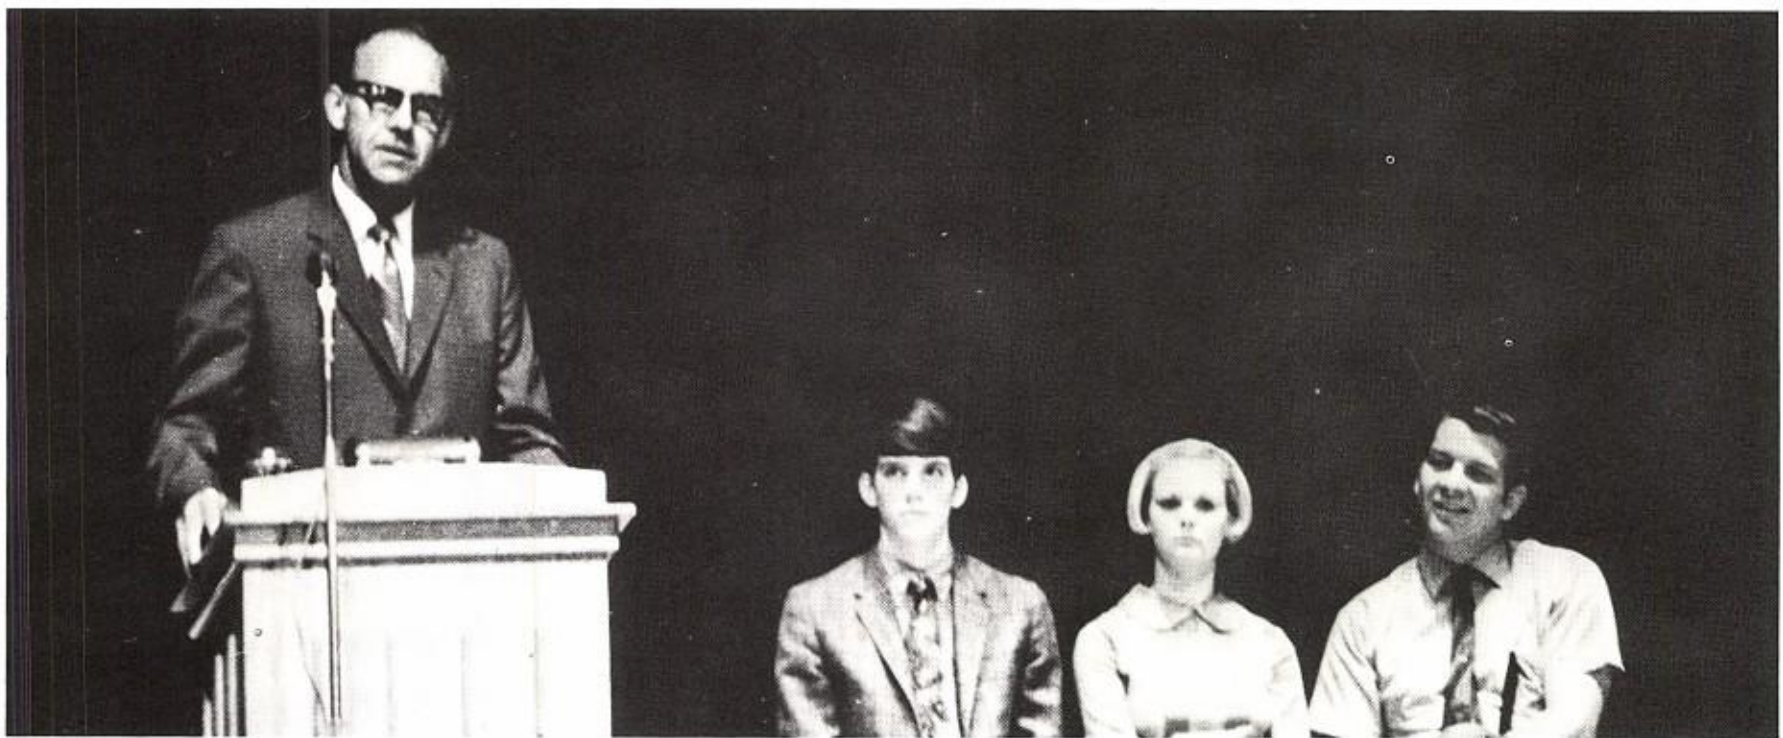

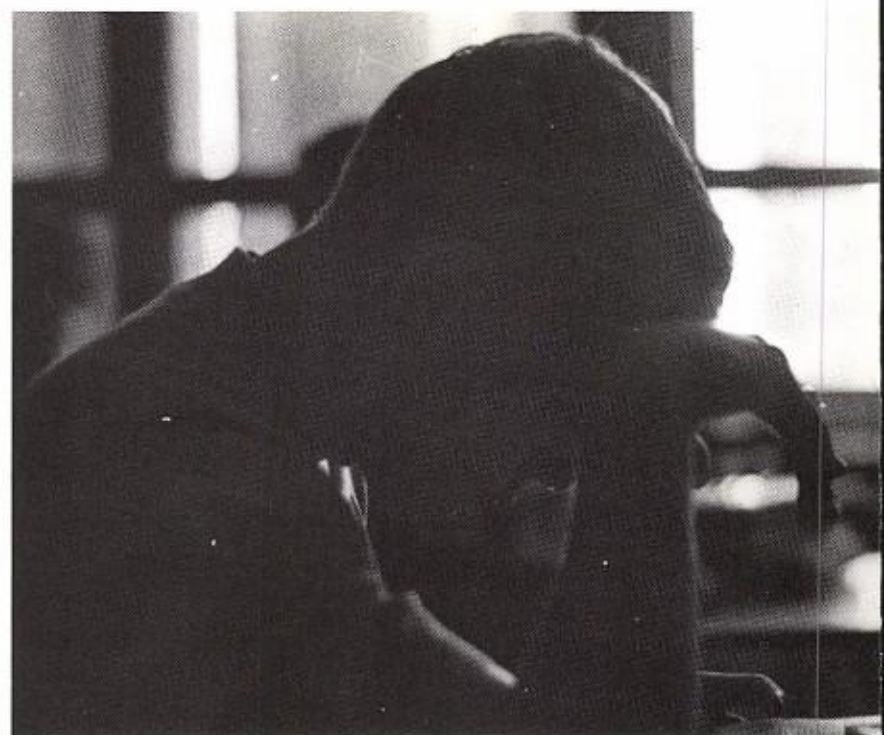

A large portion of student life was centered around the stage, with a wide variety of speakers, musical programs, and plays presented throughout the year. Many hours of hard work were put in by the band, choir, and drama in order to present special programs that would be entertaining. Also, several organizations put together assemblies featuring timely and interesting speakers.

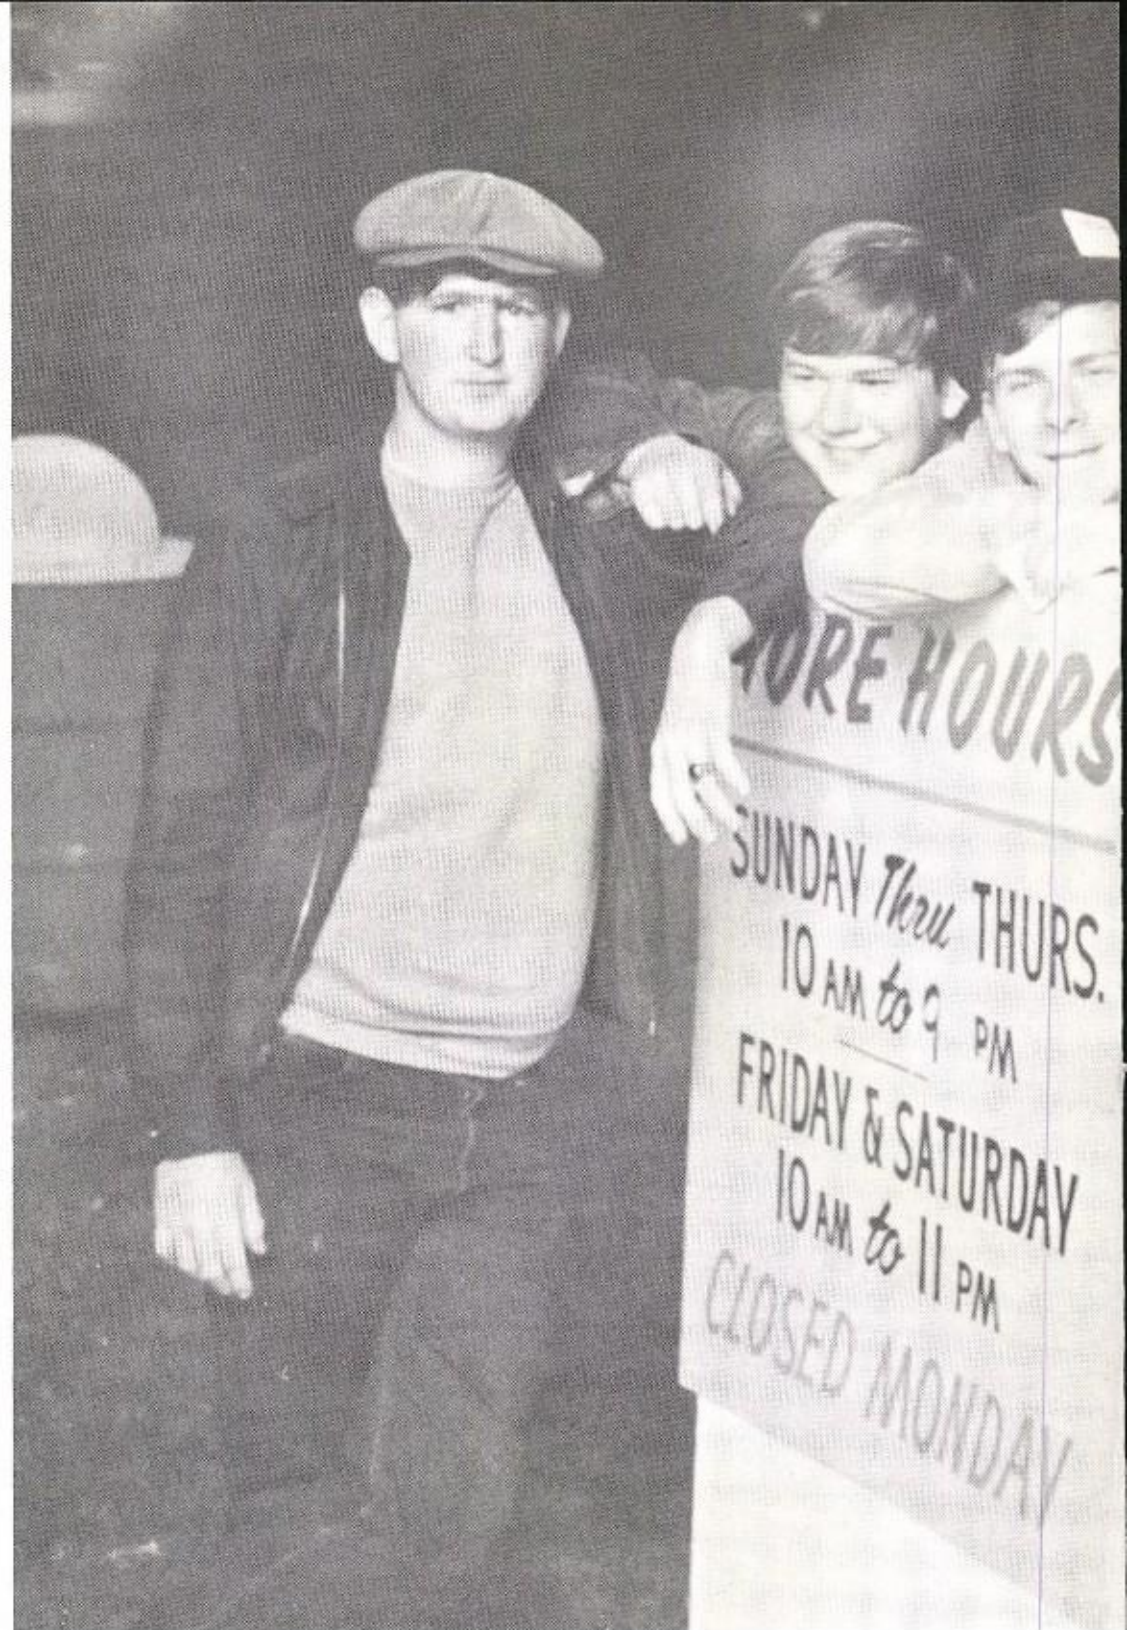

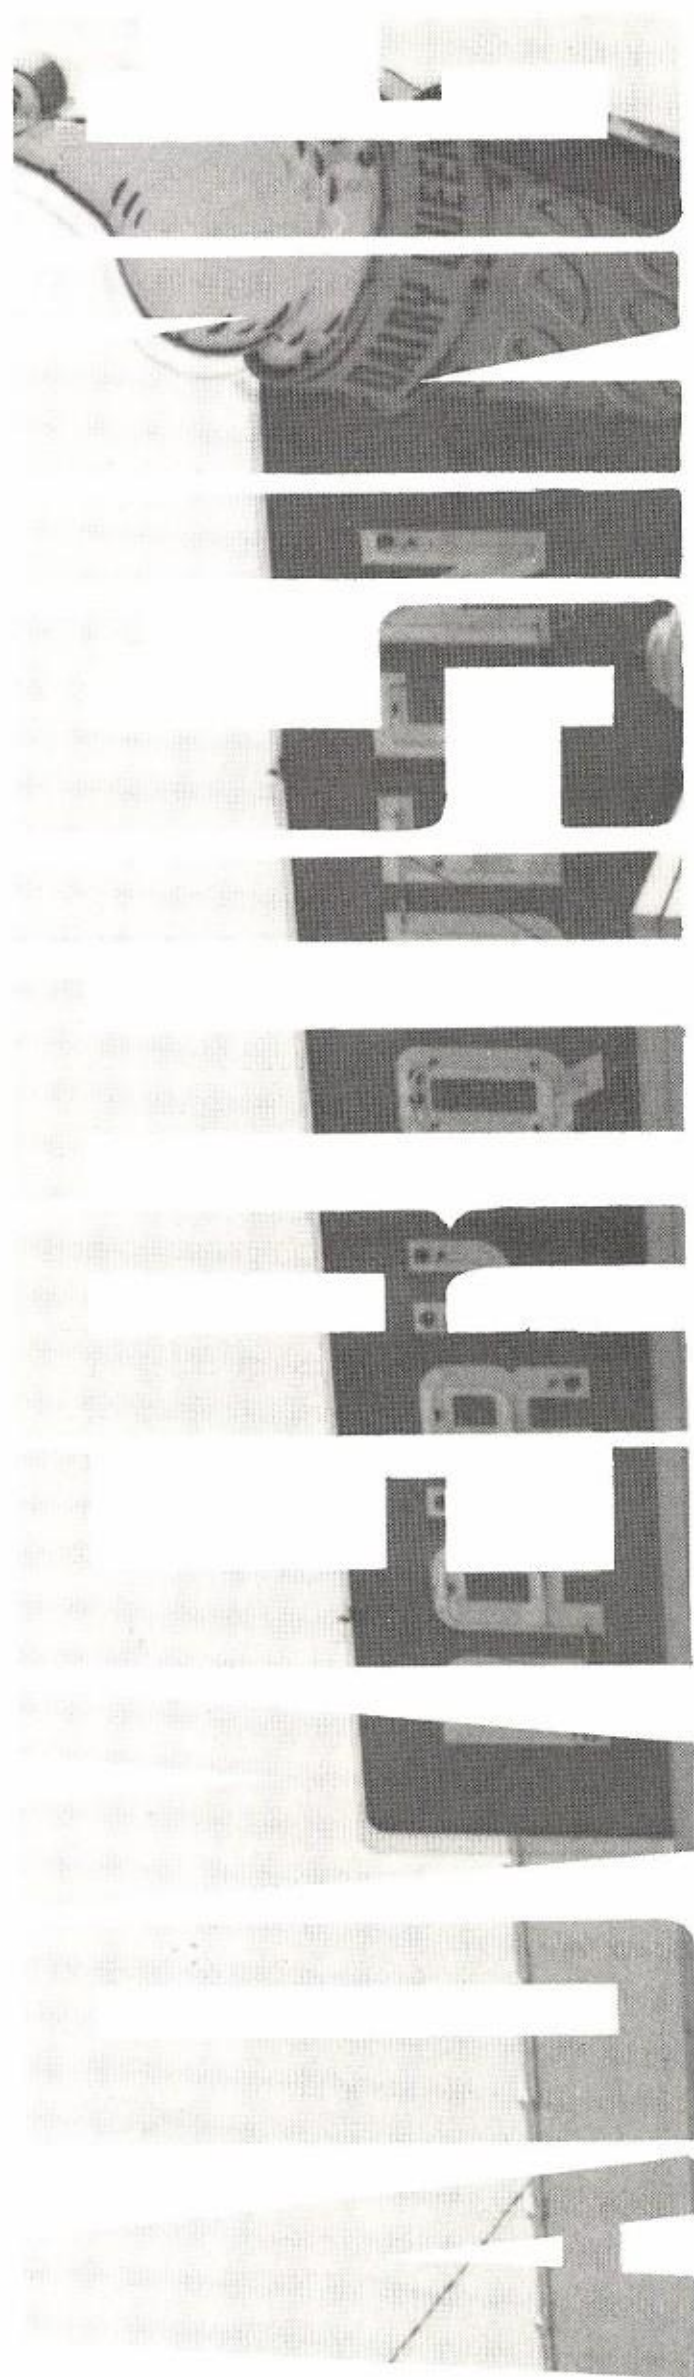

Student life — many events, many emotions, combining to form a kaleidoscopic and sometimes cataclysmic (or so it seemed at the time) scene. It was a painful day by day process of laying and strengthening the foundations of the maturity which was to come later.

In the years following student life, memories of what it was like will flash across our minds, and with the added insight of age and experience, what once was so serious will seem amusing, and perhaps will provide us with a better understanding of ourselves.

STAFF OFFERS SPECIAL THANKS . . .

For their help in making this yearbook possible, the 1970 SANDITE staff would like to extend our thanks to some of the people whose assistance we frequently overlooked:

Mr. Barry Keeler, commercial art instructor, designed the cover and loaned us the talents of four of his students, Cindy Beck, Jim Harvey, Pam Niles and Donna Teaff.

Beverly's Photography Studio provided us with pictures of the seniors and the Sandite royalty.

Also providing us with pictures was Enterprise School Photos, who took many of the organization pictures and the individual pictures of the underclassmen.

Mr. Nowmen Glenn, our American Yearbook Company representative, we thank for the numerous afternoons he had to drive to Sand Springs, to bring us supplies and humor Mr. John Beck with his fishing tales.

Mr. Thurman Garrett and Mr. Loren Stephenson served on a screening committee to help in the selection of the Sandite Queen and King.

Mr. Garrett, along with the student council, helped plan the coronation assembly for Sandite Queen and King.

Our deepest appreciation goes to the long-suffering teachers of CPHS for all the class hours the staff was allowed to miss in order to complete the yearbook on time. To them we apologize for schedules that were thrown out of whack and make-up work that caused more overtime grading than usual.

To our patrons we extend a very special thanks because without them we never could have published the 1970 SANDITE.

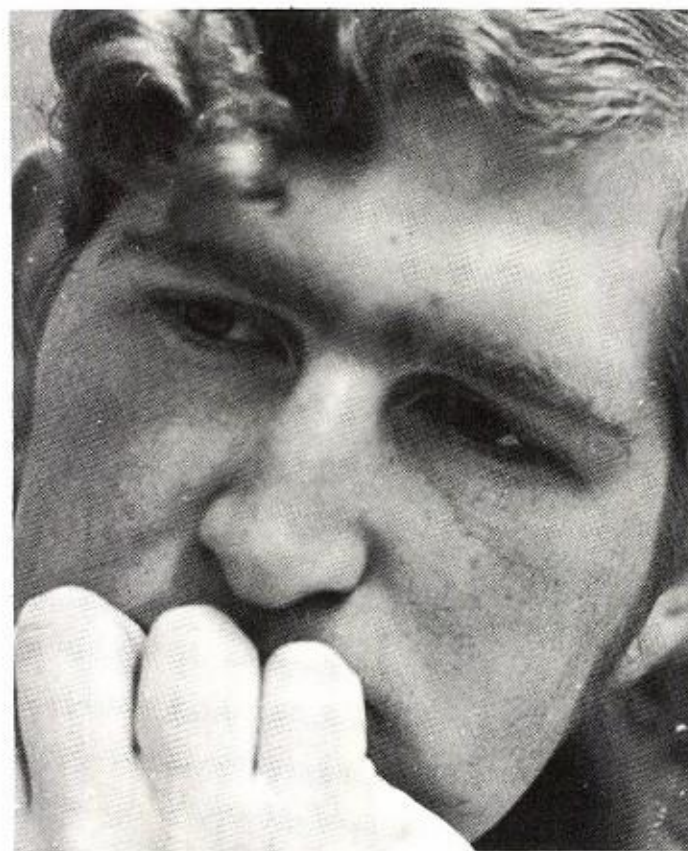

Last but not least, we thank all of you students who bought a yearbook. Without you all our work wouldn't have meant a thing. Keep up the good work —

BUY THE 1971 SANDITE!!!

Perhaps I should use this space to present my philosophy on life, or something equally as sobering; however, I can't feel too philosophical sitting amid rubber stamps and carbon paper (no pity please, for this is just an editor's lot.) Or maybe I could give you a hard-sell-hit-them-in-the-mouth-and-jar-their-senses sales pitch about how this is the best annual we've ever published; but you've heard it before, and no doubt you'll hear it again, so I won't waste your time with it.

In all seriousness, however, I would like to make a confession. At the beginning of the school year I was very apprehensive about how the staff would perform, since only four (myself included) had had any previous experience. But, I was pleasantly surprised by the way they adapted themselves to the situation, and I sincerely believe that this is the best staff I've worked with. Even though they had several moments of chaos throughout the year (as all staffs do), they still deserve any and all praise they receive. And, of course, special thanks to Mrs. Kathi Osburn for all of her help and advice.

I think I had better stop now, before I fall into maudlin sentimentality. I hope we have made something of lasting worth, something which will remain until another day when we look back.

Gary Whitley

Hear Jim...

Even though there've been many times in the last year when you've made me mad, we've still had an awful lot of fun together. Don't ever forget things like Christmas vacation; the night I smoked the cigars & rode the Super Slide; the cast party of 'Oklahoma!'; the time we broke up just before your birthday; the time we bought all those firecrackers; all the times we washed your car; the night before Pam's birthday at the Forge; Mowhawk w/ Ron & Pam (☹); & even all the way back to the boat races a year ago. I could go on & on, but I hope you'll remember anyway...

I must say it was truly "exciting" (if not absolutely blood-curdling) to go w/ you this year. I've never known anybody who had as many adventures as you; "My RED Charger"; "the time I hit the house on the motorcycle"; "you should have seen me at the lake last nite"; "me & Tom..."; "at OMA..."; "me & Steve..."; "the time me & Mike, in the 5th grade..." — my! how you can go on at times!!

And I'll never forget some of your famous one-liners: "wanna help me clean out my car?"; "should have killed the little whimp"; "wanna go eat some pizza?"; "another play? you gonna hop around again?"; "be by in 5 minutes"; "MY friends..."; & (the all-time champ) "want me to pick you up after school?" WHOA!!

Oh, Jim! You're such a strange, fantastic, fun guy. You could stand to wake-up a little but don't ever really change, OK?

It's been an extremely educating experience & Jim, I'll never forget you* (I hope you don't ever forget me ☺) I'd wish you good luck, but anyone like you whose still alive doesn't need any more. I'll just hope that you & your big S try to be good.

Love you lots, always,

Susan x

* good grief! you & my senior year are almost the same thing ☺ after a while you guess I should have written more, but I'm getting drizzly-eyed

REMEMBER THE ROSES YOU SENT ME AT CHRISTMAS? ... OH JIM

REMEMBER WHEN YOU WORKED WITH CREEG & ALWAYS TOOK ME HOME BEFORE 10:00?

Jim
 His really been great in Comm. But I don't forget our ride ever from the back stay as cool as you

 Dr. 70

Jim,
You are a nut!!
But a very nice one.
Good luck in everything!

Cyndy
Soph 69-70 Johnson

Jim,
Remember when we went to the fair (doubled, anyway) in your junior year? You're a nut and pretty nice too.
Be good to Susan and stay cool.

Love,
Tonia N. Johnson

Jim -
See, I think this is the first yearbook you've let me write in. We've really had some great times - huh. You're really a strange person Jim and I'm still trying to figure you out. I hope you do well in college Jim, I really think you've got a lot of ambition. You'll always be one of my closest friends and I hope I can be one of yours.

I love ya,
Carnie
"So 70"

Jim,
I didn't know you tell this year that it's been fun. Remember my birthday party? Anyway
Good luck with love and life.

Jim,

It's been a blast
knowing you, you've been a wonderful president and a just all around great guy. I'm glad I met you this year.
Stay as nice as you are.
Rhonda
Sept 70'

Jim,
you've been a great guy
& you have a great P.A.
Hope to see you in the future. Now that we are out of school we have to work like a dog to get a few pennies Just Be Stud!

Jim,

It's been fun
being an Comd Art with you and having you be UCA pres. Good luck and have fun at what ever you do!

Donna Jeff
Sept. 71

Jim, a real swell guy.
Don't be too much into and you'll go far. Seriously, you are a real nice guy, a good comm. President and a good Commercial Artist.
Good luck in whatever you may do!

Sept 70'

Jim, I really don't know you too well, but I do know you are a real nice guy - kind of crazy-but nice. Good luck in this year to come and take care of your self, okay? You all made a great Senior's class - but we seniors will try to make it even better next year - if possible! Be good this summer
 + have fun!
 Susan Bragg

Jim,
 I hope you make through college, which you most undoubtedly will do. Good luck
 Always, Joyce Miller '70

Jim,
 You are great! But a real nice guy to know. I am glad you are making it through even though you are a senior. You are a real nice guy.
 I hope you make through college.
 Love,
